

The client sends a request to move the totem onto the OfferCard: if it is the player's turn and the position is free, the server confirms the chosen position, otherwise it sends an error message. After the pickingphase, the server removes the totem from the track and places it on the turnOrderCard, sending the new totem position to the client.